1 INTRODUCTION

FoodPLUS GmbH/GLOBALG.A.P. Secretariat offers customers various services in the GLOBALG.A.P. database (<https://database.globalgap.org>). This requires data to be collected and processed. According to our data protection policy we commit to strict requirements for processing personal data and ensure compliance with the national and international data protection laws, in particular the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). Further information on how we process personal data may be found in our privacy policy under <https://database.globalgap.org/globalgap/PrivacyPolicy.faces>.

Among other things, personal data is collected to allow the GLOBALG.A.P. Secretariat to contact producers/companies e.g., in case of food crises, complaints, or audits in the framework of the GLOBALG.A.P. Integrity Program.

This document describes the default minimum data access settings of each the following standards and add-ons independent of their versions:

- GLOBALG.A.P. Integrated Farm Assurance (IFA) standard
- GLOBALG.A.P. Crops for Processing (CfP) standard
- GLOBALG.A.P. Harmonized Produce Safety Standard (HPSS)
- GLOBALG.A.P. Produce Safety Standard (PSS)
- GLOBALG.A.P. Produce Safety Assurance standard
- GLOBALG.A.P. benchmarked schemes and checklists – equivalent and resembling
- GLOBALG.A.P. Chain of Custody (CoC) standard
- GLOBALG.A.P. Compound Feed Manufacturing (CFM) standard
- GLOBALG.A.P. Produce Handling Assurance (PHA) standard
- GLOBALG.A.P. Risk Assessment on Social Practice (GRASP) add-on

It details for each standard what information is published in the GLOBALG.A.P. database and visible to the different data access groups as defined below. Data access rules for any other standards (e.g., Primary Farm Assurance standard) and add-ons (other than GRASP) are detailed in their specific normative documents. However, the definitions in this document are applicable for all GLOBALG.A.P. standards and add-ons.

By participating in the respective standard/add-on, the producer/company/operation grants access to the producer/company/operation data as well as product and certification data as displayed in the respective tables.

At any time, producers (this term also includes producer groups) as well as producer group members and companies/operations whose data is registered in the GLOBALG.A.P. database may release more data to the different data access groups via the certification body (verification body). However, where a standard or an add-on as such is not visible to the public it is not possible to release any data to the public. Furthermore, extended data access rights can be assigned by the producer/company/operation to individually registered companies with a personalized GLOBALG.A.P. database account (e.g., retailers).

2 DEFINITIONS

2.1 DATA ACCESS GROUPS

Several users such as producers, certification bodies (CBs), retailers, suppliers, etc. have access to the GLOBALG.A.P. database located at <https://database.globalgap.org>.

Access rights to the data stored in the database depend on the data access group to which the user belongs. A user may belong to more than one data access group.

The following data access groups exist:

- GLOBALG.A.P. Secretariat (chapter 2.1.1)
- Certification body/verification body (chapter 2.1.2)

- Market participant (chapter 2.1.3)
- Observer (chapter 2.1.4)
- Public (chapter 2.1.5)

Except for the data access group “public” the users have a personalized account with personalized login credentials.

2.1.1 Data Access Group: GLOBALG.A.P. Secretariat

This group represents individuals in the GLOBALG.A.P. Secretariat with access to the data registered in the GLOBALG.A.P. database. Only GLOBALG.A.P. staff who have signed a confidentiality agreement will be assigned to this data access group.

GLOBALG.A.P. Secretariat has access to all data filed in the GLOBALG.A.P. database.

2.1.2 Data Access Group: Certification Body/Verification Body

This group represents all certification bodies (accredited third-party inspection and certification bodies) and verification bodies (non-accredited, first- or second-party inspection bodies), who have extended data access rights for their own clients. Certification and verification body administrators are allowed to not only read, but also enter data into the GLOBALG.A.P. database for their clients.

Where a producer does not have any products in an active status (see definition below), any certification body, when having the GGN, is able to transfer the producer to the own certification body and thereby gain access to the producer data registered in the GLOBALG.A.P. database as well as to product data (certification history).

2.1.3 Data Access Group: Market Participant

This group represents companies or individuals who trade with the certified/registered product. To become a market participant, the company/individual shall subscribe for the GLOBALG.A.P. bookmarking. A list of all database users which have the status “market participant” is publicly accessible under <https://database.globalgap.org/>

2.1.4 Data Access Group: Observer

Some standards and add-ons are only visible to specific observers (e.g., the owner of an add-on), but not to the public. Observers have specific, extended access rights to the data. It is defined for each of the applicable standards or add-ons who belongs to that data access group.

2.1.5 Data Access Group: Public

Any user of the GLOBALG.A.P. database without a personalized account is considered a “public user” and granted public access rights.

2.2 TYPES OF DATA AND DATA RELEASE

2.2.1 Standard Data/Standard Visibility

Standard data/standard visibility covers the general visibility of the respective standard or add-on in the GLOBALG.A.P. database to the defined data access groups. These settings cannot be modified.

2.2.2 Producer/Company/Operation Data

Producer/company/operation data covers all producer/company/operation related data described in the current version of the normative documents of the respective standard or add-on (e.g., GLOBALG.A.P. general regulations, specific add-on rules). Examples of producer data are the company name and address.

Any producer/company/operation data to which observers, market participants, and/or the public have access as indicated in the tables detailing the access rights for the respective standard/add-on is only visible to these data access groups if at least one product is in an active status (see definition below) for the respective producer/company/operation.

2.2.3 Product and Certification Data

Product and certification data cover all product related data described in the current version of the normative documents of the respective standard or add-on (e.g., GLOBALG.A.P. general regulations, specific add-on rules). Examples of product data are the certification option and the quantity.

Furthermore, all certification/assessment related data is covered, e.g., the validity of the certificate/assessment and the GLOBALG.A.P. certificate number.

All data to which observers, market participants, and/or the public have access as indicated in the tables detailing the access rights for the respective standard/add-on is only visible to these data access groups for the respective producer/company/operation.

2.3 FURTHER DEFINITIONS

2.3.1 Active Status of a Product

A product that has one of the following statuses in the GLOBALG.A.P. database: accepted, certified, assessed, open non-conformance, suspended, self-declared suspension.

The active status may refer to a current certification cycle, but also to the next certification cycle provided that it has already been created in the GLOBALG.A.P. database.

2.3.2 Data Partners

GLOBALG.A.P. registers and licenses data partners. Data partners make the data stored in the GLOBALG.A.P. database available to data access groups that are entitled to access such data in accordance with these data access rules. All data partners must strictly adhere to these data access rules and the GLOBALG.A.P. privacy policy.

Definition of GRASP observer groups:

GRASP observer: Trading companies that belong to the “market participant” data access group, have a GLOBALG.A.P. bookmarking account, and have access to the GLOBALG.A.P. database as GRASP observers.

Traders and trader-producers are defined as follows:

- Trader-producers: Producers who act also as traders. These producers may need to verify the GRASP status of their suppliers to be able to comply with the requirements of their buyers.
- Traders: Companies or individuals who trade products and may need to verify the GRASP status of their suppliers.
